He married, first, Catherine, daughter of William and Anne,

Duke and Duchess of Hamilton, and by her had four sons, and one daughter, Susanna, married to William Gordon, Earl of Aberdeen. Of the six sons, the first called Marquis of Tullibardin, was a Colonel in the Dutch service, and perished at the battle of Taniers, in 1709.—William, Marquis of Tullibardin, was attainted in 1716, for being a party in the rebellion of that time; and being taken in another rebellion, in 1746, was sent to the Tower, where he died the year after.—James, succeeded as Duke of Athol.—George, married an heiress of his own name, by whom he left issue, three sons and two daughters; 1. John, who succeeded to the title on the death of his uncle James, in 1764, and was the third Duke; 2. James; 3. George; 4. Amelia, married, first, to John, Lord Sinclair, and, secondly, after his death, to James Farquharson, Esq; 5. Charlotte, who died in Aug. 1773; but their father was attainted in 1746, and died in Nov. 1760. To his second wife, John, Duke of Athol, married Mary, daughter of William, Lord Ross, by whom he had a fifth son, John, a Lieutenant-General of his Majesty's forces. The sixth and youngest son, Frederick, was a Captain in the Royal Navy. He had also one daughter, Jane, married to John, Earl of Crawford. His Grace dying in 1724, was succeeded by his third son, James, on whom the titles forfeited by his brother were settled by act of parliament. James, Duke of Athol, was at his father's death a Commoner for the county of Perth, and a Colonel in the Third Regiment of Guards. In 1726, he married Mrs. Jane Lanoy, widow of James Lanoy, of Hammersmith, in Middlesex, Esq; and sister of Sir John Frederick, of Westminster, Bart. By her he had a son in 1735, who died the same year; and two daughters, Jane, married to John, Earl of Crawford, and died without issue; and Charlotte, the present Duchess Dowager of Athol. The Duke married, secondly, Jane, daughter of John Drummond, of Megginch, Esq; which Lady is since married to Lord Adam Gordon, uncle to the Duke of Gordon. His Grace became an English Peer by the title of Lord Strange, as also Lord of the Isle of Man on the decease of James Stanley, the 10th Earl of Derby, who died without issue on the first of Feb. 1736; which dignities he derived from his grandmother, Amelia-Sophia, daughter of James, Earl of Derby, beheaded for treason in 1651. His Grace died Jan. 8, 1764, and was succeeded by his nephew, John, son of Lord George Murray, who married Charlotte, youngest daughter of James, late Duke of Athol, his uncle, and upon her father's decease, she became a Peeress of England in her own right, by the title of Baroness Strange of Knockyn, and had issue; Charlotte, born Aug. 2, 1754, died 1773. — John, the present Duke, James, born Dec. 5, 1757, and died April, 1770. — George, born Jan. 1759, and died the same year. — George, born Jan. 30, 1761, married Dec. 18, 1780, Anne, daughter of General Grant. — William, born March 20, 1762. — Amelia, born July 3, 1763, married Mr. Sinclair, and died 1779. — Jane, born Dec. 2, 1764, married Aug. 8, 1785, John Gross Muirhead, Esq. — Henry, born June 13, 1767. — Mary, born Jan. 12, 1769. — Charles, born April 21, 1771. Westminster, Esq; he had one son, George, born in 1720, and John, who died in 1742. The Marquis dying in 1724, was succeeded by James, the son by his first wife, who dying unmarried at Naples, was succeeded by his brother, George, now Marquis of Annandale who has been declared a lunatic ever since the year 1745, by commissioners appointed for that purpose.

E A R L S.

220. GEORGE-LINDSAY CRAWFORD, Earl of Crawford, 1399; and Lindsay, 1633; Viscount and Baron Garnock, April 10, 1703; Baron Crawford and Spinzie, 1590; unmarried. —His Lordship's grandfather, John Lindsay, was created Viscount Mount Crawford, which he changed to Garnock; and dying in 1709, left issue by Margaret Stewart, daughter of James, Earl of Bute, five sons and three daughters. Patrick, the eldest son marrying Miss Hume, had Patrick the next Viscount, who was succeeded by George, the late Viscount, and John Lindsay, Earl of Crawford, dying without issue in 1749; he succeeded also to the title of Earl of Crawford, and took the surname of Crawford. His Lordship married Dec. 26, 1755, Jane, eldest daughter of Robert Hamilton, Esq; of Beautrie-hill, by whom he had issue, three sons and two daughters; George, his successor.—Robert.—Bute.—Jane.—Mary. His Lordship died June 25, 1781, and was succeeded by his son, George, the present Earl.

220. GEORGE HAY, Earl of Errol; Baron Hay, of Slanes, March 17, 1452; born May 13, 1767; a minor.—His Lordship's grandmother, was Anne, daughter to Charles 13th Earl of Errol; which Anne, married William, Earl of Kilmarnock, who by her had three sons; but the said Earl was attainted and beheaded in 1746, upon which the title of Kilmarnock became extinct; but the Earldom of Errol descended upon the death of Mary, Countess of Errol, in 1758, to Anne, Countess of Kilmarnock, who, dying in April, 1761, was succeeded by his eldest son, James Boyd, Lord Boyd, who took the surname of Hay. He married Oct. 1749, Rebecca, daughter of Alexander Lockhart, Esq; by whom, who died May 1, 1761, he had issue one daughter, Mary, born Aug. 8, 1751. He married, secondly, Aug. 3, 1762, Isabella, daughter of William Carr, Esq; of Etall in the county of Northumberland, by whom he had issue three sons and nine daughters; Charlotte, born July 13, 1763.—Isabella-Anne, born

THE ORDER OF THE GARTER.

This most noble Order was instituted by EDWARD III.

January 19, 1344.

THE habit and ensigns of the Order are, Surcoat, Garter, Mantle, Hood, George, Collar, Cap, and Feathers; the four first were assigned by Edward III. at the foundation; the others by Henry VIII. The motto on the Garter Honi soit qui Mal y pense. The Garter is of blue velvet bordered with gold. The George is pendant to a sky-coloured ribbon, encircled with the Garter, as in the plate. The Collar, which weighs 30 ounces troy, is of gold, and contains twenty-six garters enamelled, and as many knots, (alluding to the Sovereign and his companions) all joined; to which is pendant the figure of St. George on horseback in armour, encountering a dragon with a tilting spear; which medal is of gold, and may be enriched with jewels at the pleasure of the Possessor, as in the plate. Charles II. ordained, that the Knights should always in public, wear embroidered on their coats or cloaks, the cross of their order encompassed with the garter, and a silver star of eight points, as in the plate.

At a Chapter held June 3, 1786, a new statute was ordained, that in future the Order shall consist of the Sovereign and 25 Knights, exclusive of the sons of his Majesty or his successors, who have been or shall be elected Knights of the same Most Noble Order.

The KNIGHTS of the Most Noble Order of the GARTER at this Time are,

ORDER OF THE THISTLE.

This most ancient Order is said by some, to have been instituted by Achaius, King of Scotland, who began his reign 787; it was restored by James V. in 1540, and revived by James II. of Great Britain, in 1687; and re-established by Anne, 1703.

THE Badge to be worn on the left breast of the outer garment, is a St. Andrew's cross of silver embroidery, with rays going out betwixt the points of the cross; on the middle thereof a thistle of gold and green upon a field of green, and round the thistle and field a circle of gold, having on it the motto of the Order, viz. Nemo me impune lacessit, in letters of gold. The collar of the order consists of thistles and sprigs of rue going betwixt, and at the middle thereof before hangs the jewel, which is the image of St. Andrew chased and enamelled on rays of gold, the cross and feet resting upon a ground of enamelled green, which collar and jewel is to be worn on all public days; but at the other times the jewel is pendant to a green ribband, as in the Plate.

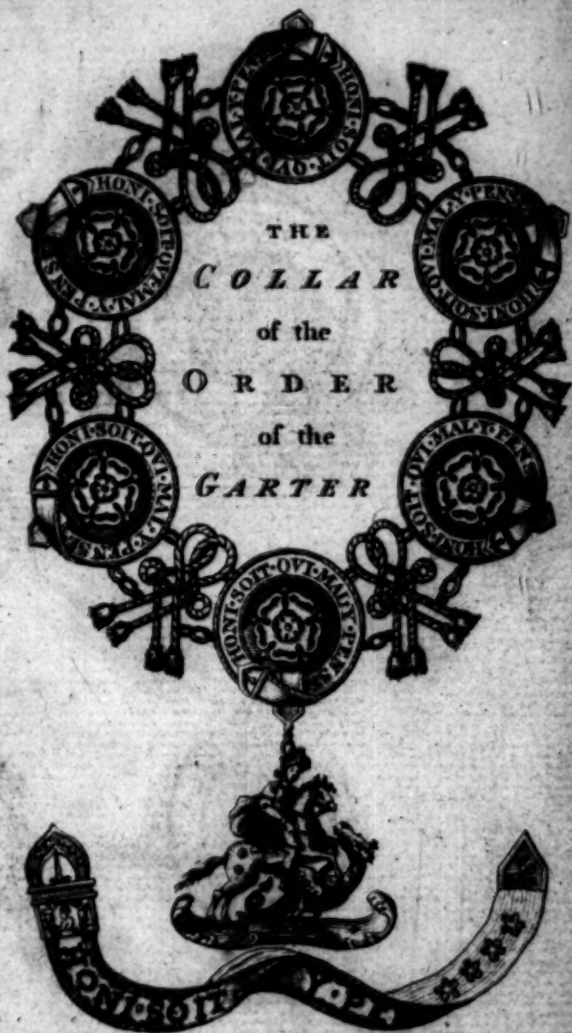

The present KNIGHTS of the Most Ancient Order of the THISTLE, are,

ORDER OF ST. PATRICK.

This most illustrious Order was instituted by George III.
Feb. 5, 1783.

THE Badge of the Order is a cross saltire of red on a blue field, surmounted with a trefoil of the same colour, charged with three Imperial Crowns of gold, within a bordure, on which is the motto, Quos Separabit, MDCCCLXXXIII. The whole surrounded by a star of silver with eight points; all which is embroidered and worn on the outer garments of the Knights of the Order. As in the Plate.

The Collar is of pure gold, composed of four Harps and five Roses, alternately joined or linked together by ten knots enamelled white; the Rose red, surrounded by a border of gold, and blue enamel. In the center before is an Imperial Crown, to which is pendent an Harp, and thereto the Jewel of the Order, being a cross saltire enamelled red, charged with a sky-blue enamelled trefoil, surmounted with three Imperial Crowns of gold, the whole surrounded with a bordure of gold, whereon is the motto enamelled blue. Which jewel, except on public days, is worn pendant to a sky-blue ribband, as in the Plate; and ornamented with jewelry, agreeable to the will of the possessor.

PRIVILEGES of PEERS of GREAT BRITAIN.

THEY are free from all arrests for debt, and therefore cannot be outlawed in any civil action. No attachment can lie against his person, but execution may be taken upon his lands and goods. They are free from all attendance at Courts-leet, or Sheriff's turns, or in case of a riot from attending the Posse Comitatus. In criminal causes they are tried by their Peers, who give in their verdict, not upon oath, as other Juries, but only upon their honour. To prevent their being defamed, they are defended by the law called causam Magnatum, by which any person convicted of scandalizing a Peer (though true) is condemned to an arbitrary fine, and to remain in prison till the same is paid. Upon any trial in a Court of Justice, a Peer may come into court and sit there covered. No Peer can be covered in the royal Presence, without permission, except the Baron Kinsale in Ireland. In case of a poll-tax the Peers bear the greatest share of the burthen, as they are then taxed according to
